STATE AGENTS, POLICE JOIN IN 5 LIQUOR RAIDS

Arrests Are Made, Whiskey Is Confiscated At Three Places

OWNERS CHARGED WITH POSSESSION

Carmelo Nocera, Anthony Nocero, John Dye Are Fined $200 Each

Raids at five homes by Salem police and state prohibition enforcement officers Thursday resulted in the arrest of three men on charges of unlawful possession of intoxicating liquors.

The raids were conducted by Police Chief Ralph Stoffer, Patrolman William Reardon and Prohibition Agents Wayne Preston and A. D. Gamble who reported the confiscation of more than 35 gallons of whiskey at the three homes where arrests were made.

Those arrested are Carmelo Nocero, 305 Wilson st.; Anthony Nocero, South Elmworth ave., and John Dye, south of this city.

Plead Guilty

Arraigned before Mayor John M. Davidson, who a few hours previously had issued search warrants for the raids, each of the men entered pleas of guilty to the possession charges. Fines of $200 and costs each were imposed by Davidson.

A cache of 33 gallons of whiskey, three 10-gallon kegs filled and another partially filled, is reported by the officers to have been uncovered in a garage at the rear of Carmelo Nocero's home. The whiskey, police said, was hidden away in a secret section of the garage.

One gallon of whiskey was found in the kitchen of Anthony Nocero's home, police reported, while five quarts were found in a box under a stairway at Dye's residence.

The men made arrangements to pay fines and costs in each case and were released.

Go To County Jail

Two other Salem men, Ralph Perkins and Cleve Burd, superior st., who were arrested by Police Chief Stoffer, Patrolman Reardon and Dog Warden C. E. Donahay Wednesday night, were taken to the county jail in Lisbon today for non-payment of fines of $200 imposed against them on possession charges. They entered pleas of guilty.

Two other raids were made by the combined state and city forces last night but no evidence warranting the filing of charges was found, Stoffer said.

JUDGE BEATEN, TROOPS IN IOWA ARE CALLED OUT

60-Year-Old Jurist Victim Of Mob In Force-closure War

FORCED TO PRAY, SMEARED WITH TAR

National Guard Battalion Is Requested By Authorities

(By Associated Press.)
DES MOINES, April 28.—Gov. Clyde Herring today mustered a battalion of the Iowa national guard for service at Le Mars, scene of a disturbance yesterday in which a district judge was beaten and threatened with hanging.

The governor acted in response to a request from Sheriff Ralph Rippey of Plymouth county. He immediately issued instructions, and Adjutant General Charles H. Gradihl ordered out the third battalion of the 133rd infantry at Sioux City.

Mobilization of the battalion, consisting of three infantry companies and one machine-gun company, was expected within a few hours.

Won't Permit Such Things

Gov. Herring said: "We simply can't permit such things to go on. I doubt that actual farmers were the instigators or leaders of the Thursday night incident but regardless of who they were we have decided to send troops into the vicinity immediately."

He added that he would issue a proclamation on his action later in the day.

(By Associated Press.)

LE MARS, Ia., April 28.—Dragged from his bench, abducted and mistreated by more than 100 belligerent farmers warring against farm foreclosures, 60-year-old Judge Charles C. Bradley was recovering from the effects of his experience today, while hints came from state officials that alleged laxity in law enforcement in the affected area would be investigated.

Judge Bradley, who has served 15 years in one court, was seized by the militant farmers, after they had failed in an effort to force him to take an oath that he would not sign any more foreclosure decrees. He was slapped, smeared with grease and dirt, choked into semi-consciousness and his trousers removed.

Dragged From Bench

The attack followed almost immediately after the judge had refused the farmers' demands late yesterday.

Checker-Playing King Wins Over Wife, Conquers Enemies

Story of Romance and Adventure, With Lots of Fun, Aptly Told by Junior Class Cast

A checker-playing king's single-handed fight against the dissolution of his country, humorously told with romance and adventure cleverly interwoven into the plot, forms the background of the three-act comedy drama, "The Queen's Husband", presented by members of the junior class at the high school auditorium Thursday night.

The production, termed a success by an audience of 400 persons at its premiere last night, will be repeated at 8:15 tonight. It is staged under the direction of Miss Mary A. Lanpher, with 16 members of the junior class as performers.

Has Domineering Wife

"The Queen's Husband" shows Albert Allen as King Eric VIII, who for years has left the ruling of his mythical country in the hands of his ruthless and domineering wife, Ruth Obenour, who is cast as Queen Martha. Other forces combining against the king are those representing the state, led by Troy Cope as General Northrup, and radicals under the leadership of Robert Snyder and Alroy Bloomberg, shown as "Fellman" and "Laker" respectively.

The queen visits America to obtain a loan of $100,000,000, after arranging for a diplomatic marriage between her daughter, Kathryn Cessna (Princess Anne) and the prince of a neighboring sovereignty, Charles Gibson. The daughter, however, loves an humble secretary, Richard Haines, who is employed by the king. How the king contrives to save his country and at the same time outwit his wife and enable his daughter to marry the man she loves forms the basis of many humorous situations with tense moments of drama and adventure.

Others In Cast

Others appearing in the cast are Max Long as "Phipps", the palace butler and the king's rival in secret checker games; Paul Smith as Birney, Harold Parker, Kathryn Ladd, Betty Long, Robert McCarthy, Wayne Sidinger, William Paxson, Dorothy Beninger, Marianne Mullins, Dorothy Astory and Margaret Moff.

The school's 35-piece orchestra, directed by Walter F. Regal, provided music at the intermissions. The selections "Connecticut," by Nassann, "American Youth," by Cauer, "Il Trovatore" by Verdi, "Just for Fun" by Simpkins, "Charming" by Waldenfeld and "Victorious Legions" were played.

BORAH'S ATTACK DELAYS VOTE ON SOLDIERS' BONUS

Government's Efforts To Force Return of Gold Scored by Veteran

DEMAND GUARANTY FOR BANK DEPOSITS

Senate Slated to Ballot On Soldier Measure This Afternoon

BULLETIN

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, April 28.—The senate today rejected an amendment to the inflation bill to give President Roosevelt the optional power to pay the bonus with new money if the chief executive desires.

WASHINGTON, April 28.—An attack by Senator Borah upon the government efforts to have citizens turn in their gold, in which the Idaho senator said if he had $5,000 in gold he would "defy the government to come and get it," pitched the senate into gold and banking debate today and delayed a vote on the bonus.

Attacks Policies

As the senate moved toward a ballot on the administration's currency expansion program, the Independent Republican asked:

"Why should citizens be threatened with criminal prosecution if they fail to return their gold, when the nation is off the gold standard?"

"There is no security, no assurance the citizen will ever get his gold back if he turns it in."

"We are asking the people to have confidence in the government. Ought not the government to have some confidence in the people?"

Need Guaranty Law

Before the membership could get around to a vote on the amendment of Senator Robinson (R. Ind.) authorizing the President in his discretion to use part of the proposed $2,000,000,000 of new money to pay the soldiers' bonus, Senator Norris (R. Neb.) predicted a deposit guaranty law probably would be needed in the future if depositors were to get back confidence in the banks.

Explaining he was not criticizing any government order, the veteran Nebraska Independent said he did not believe the government, even though backed by law authorizing it, had the right to require any citizen to deposit his money anywhere, whether it be in gold or any other kind of money.

SERVED IN OHIO VOLUNTEER UNIT

Leaves Four Daughters, Four Sons and Other Relatives

Salem's oldest war veteran, Levi M. Stamp, 98, died at his home, 205 West Tenth st., at 10:45 p. m. Thursday.

A brief illness of pneumonia is given as the cause of death of the aged veteran probably the city's oldest resident and one of North-eastern Ohio's oldest. He had lived in this city for approximately 40 years.

Born in Pennsylvania

Stamp, an active participant in patriotic functions here for four decades despite his advanced age, was born in Unionville, Chester county, Pa., on October 27, 1834, but moved to Ohio at an early age, spending the greater part of his life in Columbiana, Alliance and Salem.

He was one of few surviving members of Trecott post No. 10, Grand Army of the Republic, and served as chaplain of the organization for more than ten years. He was also a member of long standing in the Methodist Episcopal church.

Stamp enlisted in the Civil war on September 6, 1864, as a member of Company K, 180th Ohio Volunteer Infantry, at Forest, O. He also served in the first brigade of the First Division of the O. L. I.

HIGH SCHOOL DRAMATICS

Amateur dramas too often are greeted with skepticism by the theater-goer who, accustomed to fine, polished performances by players of stage or screen, attends them more as a gesture of support than as a means of entertainment.Dramatics are indelibly an important part of the extra-curricular schedule at Salem High. The appearance at the school auditorium of outstanding plays is as perennial as the seasons; just as the school has attained distinction in the field of sport, so it is recognized for its fine student stage presentations.Student plays at Salem High shouldn't be passed over lightly—they merit the support of citizens just as fans should give their wholehearted backing to scholastic teams competing in football, basketball or track. The players work just as hard as do the athletes."The Queen's Husband," a threeact comedy was given its premier by the junior class at the high school last night. As an amateur performance the dramatization by the local talent merits a high rank.
The players, 16 of them, gave excellent performances; each of the more than 400 persons who witnessed the show was greatly pleased.It was staged under the direction of Miss Mary Agnes Lanpher who has aided in the production of other successful school presentations in past years. A second and final showing will be held at 8:15 tonight.

INDEPENDENT ACTION

The refusal of Senator Glass to stand by President Roosevelt on the inflation bill is a momentous decision. Senator Glass is the foremost congressional authority on monetary policy. His opinions are respected by all conservative thinkers on money problems and by a great many who, lacking the knowledge to think for themselves, are accustomed to look to him for guidance.It is certain that the senator, one of the pillars of the Democratic party, would not have joined the opposition without exhaustive deliberation on the consequences. For the sake of party unity, for the sake of a newly reawakened national confidence and for the sake of President Roosevelt as a man he would have sacrificed a great deal.
His independent action, he must have known, would influence the thinking and actions of many others.Significantly, in spite of signs of discord like this in Washington, business contains to gain in many lines. Men who have learned by bitter experience to be cautious about sudden upturns without real justification are at a loss to know what to believe. They feel that improvement has been largely the result of probable inflation, but they cannot be sure. There is another factor, too. Undoubtedly, there has been an important increase in confidence.In this kind of a situation, the Democratic party and President Roosevelt must neglect no means to capitalize on perhaps the most favorable mood among the people during the last four years. They must and will strain every nerve and fiber to maintain political unity. Conflicting views must be reconciled. It is the party's greatest opportunity to serve, and success is the sincere desire of all persons, regardless of political views.There is a way out of difficulty.
It may not be visible now, but it must be found. The problem of inflation, upon which the party has exhausted itself before, must be denied its traditional sacrifice this time. President Roosevelt's political astuteness never has been questioned. The country prays that it will be exercised successfully in this crisis.

New York Day by Day

By O. O. McINTYRE.

NEW YORK, April 28—Thoughts while strolling: John Ringling and Jacob Ruppert bear a resemblance. So do A. C. Blumenthal and Barney Gallant. And Claudette Colbert and Grace Menken. Lovely Rosamond Pinshot has such an important look. And John Garner's expression suggests frost-bite.

They tell me the elder Insull is chucking in Greece with $20,000,000 in gold. Never heard an actor talk communism, and no guild has been so hard hit. Mayor O'Brien seems a little more popular than he was. Ogden Nash, a Savannah, Ga., boy, who made good in the city.

Whatever became of Eugene O'Brien? One of my favorite people—Boyden Sparks. Those pooling spoils of humanity geysered suddenly up from subways and looking bewildered. One word description of Konrad Bercovici—kysyish. Have to look twice at Irene Franklin since she's no longer a red-head.

Evelyn Herbert's top notes remind me of falling rose petals. Who remembers when beer was outlawed? Sparkish girls who come out so brightly rouged at dinner time. No more evening saunterers like Captain Jim Churchill along Broadway. The crackling wits in front of Lindy's.

Milton Berle has Eddie Cantor's bugle eyeballs. Irritating to hear anyone save Britishers say "Cheerio." Nobody can look so waspish as Luella Gear. Or smile more geally. Business college sign: "One new idea and you're made!" All right—gray-colored shirts with dinner clothes!

A short cut to "important" money on Broadway used to be the theatrical ticket brokerage shop. The big ones—McBride's, Tyson, etc.—had from 15 to 20 rapid-fire clerks answering a barrage of telephones. Many have shrunk to one man places. In the golden era even the hole-in-the-wall spots often netted $500 a day. Aids were known as "ciggers," types who stood in line to "scalp" at box offices.

Leo Newman is dean of the ticket agents and among the slight sprinkle of survivors. White-haired and seventyish, he has been a human divining rod for producers in out-of-town tryouts. He was the only one of his guild to agree "Abe's Irish" was a "boy." Nixed in a Broadway review, he has seen the Rialto expand from 14 theaters to 98. And suddenly deflate early this season to nine again.

At sundown now and then along an upper reach of Park avenue Col. E. M. House strolls with two frisky Cairns, gifts incidentally from his long time friend, the late Will Hogg. Col. House in his 70's has the pink complexion of youth and his solemn eyes are as clear as a bell. He was a sickly youth and his years have been a fight against invalidism, yet no other American has inconspicuously accomplished so much for his country. Or asked so little of it.

In an age of show offs and bow stealers the sombre attenuations of Col. House are heartening. Constantly hugging the shadows, he suggests a fresco of faithfulness. A gentleman who circumvents by gentleness. A celebrity who refuses to celeb!

Recently I had tea in an Elsie DeWolf decorated duplex in that apartment area once Millionaire's Row. It is occupied by a moving picture attorney and expressed a grandeur in simplicity I have never seen in the French-modern decor. The only bizarre note was a tiger skin carpet up the circular stairway. The dining room by a process of indirect lighting gives the impression of golden sunshine. The master bedroom is in a quilting of cell blue, indirectly lighted, and with an enormous bed that to my bourgeois mind suggested a morning romp with about a dozen dogs. Off this bedroom was a powder room entirely of mirrors. And fragile dressing table and spindly chairs edged in chromium. In glancing over this I see no reason for not mentioning right out in the first place it was the apartment of the Robert Rubins.

After this peep into how the other half lives it was so cheerful to return to the slums. But in a way there was compensation. For in the most comfortable chair in my workshop a rather celebrated author was stretched out under a reading light enjoying a lycanthropic horror called "The Werewolf of Paris" and an enormous cigar. What is more, he had removed both of his No. 11's, which is referred to in my crotch of the creek as "favoring your feet."

Pellagra, Puzzle to Science

Pellagra is one disorder that has baffled science for a long time. Though great advances have been made in its control, the exact cause responsible for its symptoms is not known. But during the past decade the disease has come to be regarded as a nutritional disease and not as an infection. By this I mean that it is probable pellagra is caused by faulty diet and not by a germ.

The disease has been known for more than two hundred years. At one time it was believed to be a poor man's disease, caused by the lack of food, sunshine, and proper sanitation. But it is encountered in families where there is no lack of food, but where the wrong kind of food is eaten. Occasionally it is met in persons who have indulged in severe and dangerous methods of dieting.

We are greatly indebted in many ways to the excellent work conducted by the United States public health service. It conducted intensive investigations of pellagra. Its study reveals that pellagra can be traced to a diet lacking in certain vitamins, particularly vitamin G. It is believed this vitamin is a substance necessary to prevent this disease.

Foods With Vitamin G

Fortunately, this vitamin is found in a variety of foods. For example, a diet that is varied and contains an abundant supply of fresh lean meats, liver, milk, canned salmon, eggs, dried beans, peas and spinach, assures an adequate supply of this vitamin.

Prolonged use of a diet lacking in vitamin G will result in pellagra. It won't be long before the victim complains of a reddish discoloration of the skin. The skin peels and sheds large quantities of scales. The face, neck and hands are usually involved.

In addition, the sufferer has marked nervous symptoms, such as melancholia, hallucinations, stupor and convulsions. The gums become swollen and bleed easily. There is an increased amount of saliva and the victim has severe intestinal disturbances.

Diet, as you see, is important in the prevention of pellagra. Pellagra is most common in localities where the inhabitants live on a diet which varies very little from day to day.

Canned foods can be substituted for fresh fruits and vegetables when the latter are not available. Canned spinach, turnips and string beans contain sufficient vitamin G to aid materially in the prevention of pellagra. The use of a properly balanced diet with abundant fresh fruits and vegetables will lead to a decrease in the occurrence of this disagreeable ailment.

Miss Zukas testified that the Archduke was perfectly sober when he drove her to her Dorchester home shortly before his arrest. His Highness appealed the case to the Superior Court.

Rotunno, Atterholt Will Die Tonight

(The Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, April 28.—Two men will die in the electric chair at Ohio penitentiary tonight.

The prisoners, Tony Rotunno, 31, and Ralph Atterholt, 30, convicted slayers of Marshal Scott Vasbinder of Newton Falls, lost their fight to escape the supreme penalty when Gov. White refused to commute their sentences to life imprisonment.

After personally hearing the men's pleas that their lives be spared, the chief executive said he was unable to find any evidence to justify clemency. Convictions of both men were affirmed by the appellate and state supreme courts.

Vasbinder was shot and killed during a gun fight last July 5. He had sought to arrest Atterholt, Rotunno and Owen Hunter when he suspected them of attempted burglary. A few days later, Hunter was killed during a robbery, at Warren.

McGarvey will be represented at this hearing by Attorney George T. Farrell and Charles C. Connel, while the motion will be opposed by Prosecuting Attorney George L. Lafferty and former Prosecutor John E. Baucknecht.

McGarvey was indicted for second degree murder, and following the return of a manslaughter verdict, a motion for a new trial was granted by Judge W. F. Lones on the ground of error. At a second trial, a similar verdict was returned, and the case taken to the appellate court on error, where the lower court was sustained. It is now sought to prosecute error in the supreme court. In the event the latter court refuses leave to file a petition in error, the case against McGarvey will then be closed. McGarvey is at liberty under $5,000 bond.

Laurel-Hardy Film, Animal Thriller Feature State's Bill

ONE of the year's most unusual films, "Zoo In Budapest", with Loretta Young and Gene Raymond in leading parts, is the current attraction at the State theater.

Laurel and Oliver in Comedy. Of great importance to all movie-goers is the added feature—Stan Laurel and Oliver Hardy in their latest comedy, "Twice Two", which should certainly guarantee plenty of laughs. Mr. Hardy and Mr. Laurel also enact the roles of Mrs. Hardy and Mrs. Laurel and they are perfect screams all bedecked up in feminine ruffles and wigs.

Filled with natural drama and climaxed by an episode equalling in terror the most dangerous ever filmed, "Zoo In Budapest" proves to be most entertaining. First from the standpoint of beauty in production and the ability of the fine cast, then the tender, sweet love story that runs through the plot.

Miss Young enacts the role of a young orphan girl escaping from the asylum, who finds herself one of the principal characters in a day of excitement and thrills at the suddenly upset zoo.

Today's Pattern

BE INDIVIDUAL—MAKE YOUR PROCKS Pattern 2591

Follow the crowd when you choose cottons.... everyone is wearing them.... but follow your own individual taste when you select the frock. The model sketched today couldn't have been designed by clever fingers.... it's virtually two frocks with only one pattern! The first one boasts a clever V-shaped band that buttons over the square neckline, and perky sleeve flares. The other striking version omits these details, and voila — a perfect tennis and sports frock. Binding adds a smart trim. Pique, embroidered batiste, shantung, and others would be just the thing.

Pattern 2591 may be ordered only in sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38 and 40. Size 16 requires 3 1/2 yards 36-inch fabric. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions furnished with this pattern.

SEND FOR THE ANNE ADAMS FASHION BOOK, showing Paris-inspired models for every sewing need—all practical and easy and economical to make. Models for the larger figure, junior and kiddie styles; lingerie and accessory patterns are also featured.

COUPON This pattern will be delivered upon receipt of 15 cents, coin or stamps, carefully wrapped. Latest Fashion Book 10c. Send all orders to SALEM NEWS PATTERN DEPARTMENT, 243 WEST 17TH STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

Raymond a most likeable lad, to be remembered for his performance in "Ladies of the Big House" and "If I Had a Million", plays the part of Zani, a boy who had a ways lived among the animals and who greatly resents the killing of the beasts for their fur. The two young people meet on this eventful day at the zoological park and along with a little boy who gets lost in the huge gardens surrounding the place, form a strange trio on what proves to be the most exciting day of their lives.

Grand Is Closed If the prospect of seeing a maniac bring let loose in the zoo, a child lost in a snake cage, and a stampede of elephants sounds exciting, then you will be even more enthralled with a pictorial version of these thrilling episodes.

At the Saturday matinee at the State another of the chapters of "The Last of the Mohicans" will be shown. The remainder of this serial will be shown at the State as the Grand Theater has been closed for the summer.

Court News

A motion to return to Mahoning county the divorce action filed in Mahoning county by Margaret Heil and against her husband, Attorney R. W. Headland, and which had come to this county Wednesday on change of venue, was argued before Judge W. F. Lones, and decision reserved.

At the same time the custody of a five-year-old son of the couple was also before the court, and on this issue testimony was offered.

"Can't you two make up your differences?" the court queried Mrs. Headland when she was on the witness stand.

"This was not done in haste," the witness replied, referring to the divorce action, "and I do not think it possible to make any change in the situation."

Judge Lones will not hand down a decision on the question of custody until the motion to refer the case back to Mahoning county is disposed of.

In the case of The Minerva Savings & Banking Co. against Jesse Sanor and others, judgment has been entered in favor of the plaintiff on a cognovit note for $639.66 and costs.

Leave has been granted the defendant to answer on or before May 27 in the case of The Eastern Foundry Co. against Edward G. Whitacre.

Edwin S. DeFord, defendant in a foreclosure action filed against him by The Columbus Mutual Life Ins. Co., has been granted leave to file an answer at once.

A motion to strike out an entry granting leave to answer has been overruled by Judge W. F. Lones in the equity action filed by the First National Bank of Salem against Santo Altomare and others. Exceptions have been entered, and the case has been assigned for trial May 8 at 9 o'clock.

Leave has been granted Earl H. McClintock to answer at once the partition petition filed by Minnie E. McClintock against Earl E. McClintock and others.

TOOK PILLS FOR 30 YEARS, THEN CEREAL BROUGHT RELIEF

Mr. Forsythe Endorses ALL-BRAN for Constipation

If you suffer from headaches, loss of appetite and energy or any other of the frequent effects of constipation, read this voluntary letter:

"After taking pills and tablets for about thirty years for constipation, I started to take your ALL-BRAN three times a day according to directions. Today I can eat cheese, and that is binding, and certainly feel fine."—Mr. Ed. Forsythe, Box 219, Youngstown, N. Y.

Science says ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and vitamin B to further aid regular habits. In addition, ALL-BRAN is rich in blood-building iron.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that of leafy vegetables. Inside the body, it forms a soft mass which gently clears the intestines of wastes.

Isn't this pleasant "cereal way" far more healthful than using patent medicines—so often habit-forming?

Just eat two tablespoonfuls daily. In serious cases use with each meal. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

day. First he was dragged from the bench and taken to the court house lawn, after which he was loaded into a truck and hauled away to a cross road about a mile distant.

With a rope around his neck, the judge heard the farmers renew their demands for an oath. When he did not reply, one of the farmers jerked the rope until the judge choked and fell.

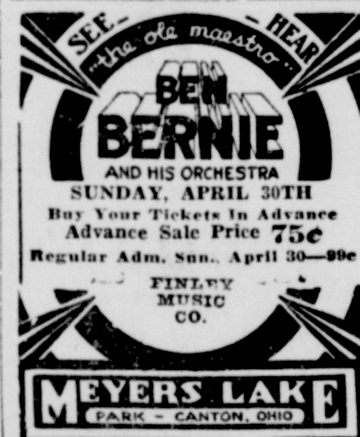

On his knees the judge was commanded to pray—"for the farmers." This time he complied and offered a short prayer in which he said: "I will do the fair thing to all men to the best of my knowledge."

Throw Dirt At Him
As he prayed a farmer set a hub cap from a nearby truck on his head and grease and oil trickled down the jurist's face. The farmers tossed dirt from the road and it stuck in the grease and oil.

Then the crowd forced the judge to remove his trousers which they packed with dirt and grease. He was left standing in the road. A minister's son passed in an automobile and brought Judge Bradley back to the court house. He asked to be left alone and a short while later went to his home. He said he was "not hurt."

Although he said the affair had not been reported to him officially, Gov. Clyde Herring indicated he was considering an inquiry.

Great Array Of Track, Field Stars To Gather Here Saturday

Quaker Squad Defends Thrice-Won Honors in Fourth Annual Relays

More than 300 athletes, selected as the best from an entry list of 22 schools, will gather within the walls of Reilly athletic stadium Saturday, competing for championship honors in the fourth annual night relay carnival sponsored by Salem High school.

Potential record-crashers come from all sections of Ohio to seek the title held by Salem High in relays for three consecutive years. The Quakers, easy victors in each of the three previous relays, face a stiff battle in their defense of the crown.

Preliminaries are scheduled at 2:30 p. m. with finals being slated to get under way at 7:30.

Lisbon, Wellsville Enter
Still more entries were received Thursday when the number of schools competing was increased to 22. Lisbon and Wellsville are the new participants, the former sending two athletes, Wesover and Finney, while the Bengals invade the local stadium with a large squad of 15 players.

Finney will represent Lisbon in the broad jump while Wesover is entered in the mile and half mile runs.

The revised list of school entries, announced last yesterday by Manager Wilbur J. Springer, follows:
Akron, Buchtel, Akron North, Akron South, Alliance, Boardman, Canton McKinley, Cleveland Lincoln, Cleveland Shaw, Columbians, Dayton, Pa., East Palestine, Leavittsburg, Leontonia, Lisbon, Poland Salem, Sebring, Steubenville, Tallmadge, Warren, Wellsville and Youngstown Rayen.

Special Officers on Duty
Announcing all preparations practically completed for the event, one of the nation's outstanding nocturnal schoolboy classics, Manager Springer today issued a request that all non-participants remain in bleachers during the entire meet. Special officers will be on duty, he announced, to keep the field clear of all spectators.

Every effort will be made to afford spectators best possible views of all events. A tent where the official scorer will be stationed and from which announcements will be made concerning winners of events and standings will be erected near the south end. Officials will make this tent their headquarters when not actively engaged in supervising an event.

Salem Squad Ready
Coach Floyd W. Stone will send a large squad into the meet in the quest of a fourth straight title for Salem. Particular interest is being focused on the events involving Wayne Russell, Bill Pauline and Bruce Arnold, local lads who are conceded fine chances for the creation of new records.

Russell will be entered in the discus, shot put and javelin and in the shot marks of 45 ft. 5 in. held by Conrad of Wooster. Pauline is the school's main hope in the broad jump and pole vault while Arnold is entered in the 100 and 220-yd. dashes and the low hurdles.

Other Salem candidates for points include Glenn McPeely and Murray Cooper in the half mile run; Frank Theriault in the mile; Keith Harris and Teddi Andrei in the 440; Greenisen and Gordon Keyes in the high hurdles.

Mullins to Referee Meet
Purn and Wayne Slinger in the high jump; Al Cates in the shot put and discus; Rich in the broad jump; Holloway, pole vault; John Pukalski, javelin.

P. P. Mullins (Yale) will referee the meet assisted by a staff of officials that includes H. C. Wagner and Kenneth Craker of Warren, Fred Paxson, William Robusch, Keith Roesser, Evan Jenkins, R. B. Clark, E. E. Engelhart, J. H. Sharp, J. C. Guiler and J. M. Kelley.

3,000 TO COMPETE IN PENN RELAYS

Ohio State Seeks Title In Two-Day Classic At Philadelphia

(By Associated Press)
PHILADELPHIA, April 28 — Trackdom's annual two-day celebration of the birth of relay racing gets under way for the 39th time at 2 p. m. today, with the opening of the University of Pennsylvania's colorful carnival.

3,000 Athletes Entered
Some 3,000 athletes from a half-a-thousand schools and colleges will compete through 86 events during the two-day meet.

Fair and warmer weather is predicted and 35,000 spectators are expected to be lured by the promise of broken records and stellar performances on a fast track.

Eight of America's Olympic team members and seven defending champions go to starting posts in their specialties, meeting opponents who represent the cream of the track crop in the east and much of the middle west.

Lack of interest has led to the discarding of the gruelling decathlon, but the 20 events today and 36 more tomorrow comprise a program which promises thrills galore.

Ohio State Enters
The relay team in for the major share of attention. The quarter-mile distance and spring medley baton-carrying events are carded for today, with Ohio State, New York university and Penn State defending titles.

TERRY UNCOVERS STAR PITCHERS; GIANTS IN LEAD

New Yorkers Create Stir In National; Bruins Defeat Pirates

The boys who follow National league developments are beginning to suspect that Bill Terry, manager of the New York Giants, has something up his sleeve besides a broken wrist. And that something seems to be unsuspected pitching power that he can summon forth almost every day.

Take First Place
When they started the season, the Giants looked no stronger than the club which finished tied for sixth place last year, what with Freddy Lindstrom gone, untied Blondy Ryan at short and the pitching staff apparently no stronger. But now, even with Sam Leslie playing first, the Giants have climbed to the top of the National league standing.

Terry has found one great weapon in his star southpaw, Carl Hubbell, who has allowed only one run in 32 2-3 innings. In addition, the last three days, the Giants have demonstrated that Hal Schumacher could pitch a five-hit game; that Leroy Parmelee could come through with a one-hit performance and finally that Ray Starr, the ex-Cardinal, can do some effective hurling.

Trim Phillies, 5-2
Except for some wildness, Starr pitched six good innings against the Phillies, allowing only four hits before he retired for a pinch hitter.

Hubbell came in for three scoreless innings to ring up his third victory as the Giants opened up with a three-run outburst in the eighth inning, won 5 to 2 and climbed into first place.

The Chicago Cubs shoved Pittsburgh out of the lead, beating the Pirates, 3 to 2, on the strength of a big fourth inning.

Brooklyn beat the mound duel between Walter Beck and Ed Brandt. Brandt gave only four hits to seven off Beck. The Cardinals took their first decision from Cincinnati, bunching four singles with a walk and a fly for three runs in the ninth, to win, 3-2.

Three four-hit pitching feats and one slugfest which saw the Chicago

ETHAN ALLEN, Cardinals—As Pinch batsman hit long fly that drove in winning run against Reds.

CHARLEY RUFFING, Yankees—Held Athletics to four hits and struck out eight for third victory of season.

JOE MOORE, Giants—Led attack on Phillies with three hits.

JIM LEVEY, Browns—Batted in all three runs against Cleveland.

CHARLIE GRIMM, Cubs—Made two hits against Pirates, scored one run, batted in one and worked double steal with Stephenson.

White Sox blast out a 10-4 victory over the Detroit Tigers, marked the American League day.

Charley Ruffing pitched four-hit ball for the Yankees, and beat the Athletics, 5-2, as Lou Gehrig, Babe Ruth and Earl Combs all hit homers.

Ed Linke, Washington's 21-year-old right handed rookie turned in a four-hit game against the Boston Red Sox in his first start, winning 3-2. George Blaeholder held the Cleveland Indians to four safeties and the St. Louis Browns won 3-2 with the aid of some lusty clouting by Jim Levey.

Joe E. Brown in Uniform as Indianapolis Trims Blues, 4-0

(By Associated Press)
CHICAGO, April 28—All the incidental business in connection with the American association's opening ceremonies today was over, but there was still no sign of a stand-out team.

Comedian In Uniform
The western clubs held their home openers yesterday, and as expected, Kansas City's "New Deal" organization, won the inaugural day attendance trophy offered annually by President Thomas Jefferson Hickey. The Blues with Joe E. Brown, movie comedian in uniform, took a 4 to 0 licking from Indianapolis before 10,593 paying customers.

This mark surpassed by a sizeable margin the best figure in the eastern opening program. Minneapolis 1932 champions played to 8,964 which also was better than Columbus' 7,014. Milwaukee drew 4,576, a disappointingly small turnout, while 4,276 watched St. Paul open up.

Minneapolis On Top
Minneapolis led the circuit as well as the western division with six victories and four defeats. Toledo, the eighth place club, was only two games behind with five victories and seven setbacks.

The Blues had to work hard for an opening day triumph. They trailed Toledo, 8 to 5, going into the fifth inning but caught up and continued to wallop the ball. The final count was 13 to 8.

Moore Marcum, held Milwaukee to three hits, but two of them were homers by Bud Connolly and Buck Stanton, enough to accomplish a 2 to 0 brewer victory over Louisville.

Frank Sigafos and Marty Callaghan with a double and two singles each led a 12 hit assault on Charley Wood, to help Indianapolis to its 4-0 shutout over Kansas City.

Paul Dean halted a ninth inning uprising by St. Paul to save a 10 to 7 decision for Columbus. Fred Blake went into the sixth inning with a 10 to 0 lead, but was nicked for four runs and was driven out in the seventh. The Saints had the bases loaded in the ninth with two out, but Irv Jeffries lined out to Nick Cullop to end the game.

DUNN EDEN CLUB TO COMPETE IN SECTIONAL LOOP

Strong Outfit Planned by Manager Schaffer; To Practice Sunday

ALLIANCE, CANTON ALSO IN CIRCUIT

Other Teams Listed From Dover, Akron, Massillon, New Philly

Planning the organization of one of the strongest teams developed in the Salem district for years, Harry Schaffer, manager of the Dunn Eden lake nine, today announced that the club will represent Salem in the newly organized Ohio semi-professional baseball league.

Competing with the Dunn Eden aggregation in the circuit will be two teams from Canton, Akron, Dover, New Philadelphia, Coshocton, Massillon, Alliance and possibly Mansfield. The circuit is planned to include at least eight teams.

Schaffer sees through the entrance of the Dunn Eden team into the league a chance for the renewal of baseball interest in the Salem district. The popularity of the game here has been decreasing rapidly for several years, it being more than half a decade since the city was represented by a Class A aggregation.

G. W. Dunn Backs Team
G. W. Dunn, owner of Dunn Eden lake is backing the team.

Candidates for first-string places on the team will gather for their first regular practice at the lake diamond at 1:30 p. m. Sunday.

Schaffer reported that his list of players already includes such prominent players as Jim Smith, Arthur "Shorty" Borton, "Lefty" Bradt, John Sanders, Roy and Kenneth Grimes, Eddie Kennedy, Pete and Mike Sartick and Bob Cope.

Any others wishing the tryout for the club are asked to be at the lake field in uniform at 1:30 Sunday.

The season will be opened by the lakers on Sunday, May 7, when a home game will be played with a Canton team as the tentative opponent. A schedule of contests with popular road attractions, including the Homestead Grays, House of David and Detroit Clowns, is being arranged, Schaffer said.

Play at Home Sundays
The games will be intermingled with regular league contests which will be played on Saturdays and Sundays. Road games are planned on Saturday to enable the team to play before home crowds every Sunday.

Several major improvements, including the erection of a wall to encircle the field, are planned at the lake ball grounds, according to Manager Schaffer.

Another team which will have a large following of local fans is the Placencia Lake aggregation which held its first practice last Sunday. Another workout is planned the coming Sunday with such players as Ted and Joe Schwartzoff, Al Hurford, Larry Russell, Wang and others on the team's roster.

Derby Dope

(By Associated Press)
LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 28.—The "big four" of the eastern contenders for the $50,000 Kentucky derby stake had been cut to the "big three" today with announcement by James F. Johnson, owner of the Quincey stable that he would not send Repaid to Churchill Downs.

Repaid, one of the future book favorites, raced poorly in two starts at Havre de Grace, his withdrawal leaves W. R. Coe's Ladyman, Adolphe Pons' swivel and F. A. Griffith's Sarada to bear the principal hopes of the east in the historic race May 6.

The R. M. Eastman estate's Charley O., a leading western contender, worked a mile and an eighth in racing time at Douglas Park Thursday. His time for this distance was 1:53 3-5, handily.

Workouts of derby eligibles at Churchill Downs over a slow track included Red Whisk, mile in 1:48 under restraint; Fingal, mile and eighth in 1:37 2-5, well in hand; Interpreter, mile and eighth in 1:39 pulled up; Red Roamer, mile in 1:46, breezing; and Spieson, mile and eighth in 1:37 3-5, handily.

SYNOPSIS

Dr. John Wolfe, young and capable assistant of the inefficient old Dr. Montague Threadgold, is shocked at the pollution he finds everywhere in the little town of Navestock. The young doctor's greatest obstacle in trying to better conditions is the bitter resentment of the people themselves. The affable Threadgold appears more interested in humoring his patients and fattening his purse than he is in curing their ills. He cautions Wolfe against using necessary "expensive" medicines when the "ordinary" preparations will do. Wolfe would be tempted to give up if it were not for lovely, young Jess Maseall, whose sincerity and courageous outlook are an incentive to keep fighting. Filled with curiosity as to how Wolfe spends his time, Mrs. Threadgold searches his room and finds a map he has prepared showing Navestock's polluted areas. She informs her husband of what she calls Wolfe's "gross disloyalty and underhand spying" and suggests that her husband either make him discontinue his researches or discharge him. Jasper Turrell, the brewer, whose enmity Wolfe had incurred for complaining of the condition of the former's property, calls on the Rev. Robert Flemming. The genial rector is indifferent to Turrell's ranting about Wolfe. The clergyman cares little for Turrell, accepting him as part of Navestock. Flemming had long ago learned to take evil as a part of life. Flemming wonders what type of man Wolfe is. He has the opportunity to meet him at the bedside of a dying woman. The clergyman is strangely moved by the capability and personality of the younger man. Wolfe gives him food for thought with the statement that places are responsible for certain deaths. Jess, day-dreaming of Wolfe on the moor, is brought back to reality by the intrusion of Edith Wilks.

CHAPTER TWENTY-THREE

It seemed that Miss Edith Wilks would be out of place in this nest of wild flowers. The name itself was like a piece of crocheted work, busy, finicking, thinly feminine. Edith Wilks indeed; with her long legs, high French boots nearly up to her knees, and her air of being a young woman of the world, she was a contrast to the sea. A straw bonnet appeared above the furze bushes, moving along the

How do you do, Jessica? I have just walked over to ask you to come to our party next week," said Edith.

winding path that led to Jess's sanctuary. "Are you there, Jess?" "Yes, I'm here." "Out of temper with the furze bushes, and rather concerned about her clothes, Miss Wilks reached the edge of the pit. She was a tall, thin, lanky girl with a thin nose. One of those colorless types, her hair, eyebrows and lashes were almost white, and her red eyelids made her eyes look pale and strained. Her mouth was her most characteristic feature, a straight, lipless slit out of which acrid little speeches slipped with perfect facility. Miss Wilks had provided her with gentle refinements, and, having no good looks, she dressed herself up in manners. "Hullo, Edith!" "How do you do, Jessica? I have just walked over to ask you to come to our party next week. Mother had a carriage for you, didn't she?" "What, have you got a carriage now? Come and sit down." The carriage was still a chair, but the tall girl did not explain. She descended very carefully, holding ton! It's just like a darky's feet patter. And his mouth always makes me laugh." Her companion did not see the humor of the thing. She was lady-like and correct. "How can you be such a baby, Jess?" "I can't help it." "The empty laugh. You don't remember that in our readings. Mr. Chipperton is such a gentleman. It is a pity some of the other young men don't imitate his manners. Vulgar things; they make me shudder."

"Ugh! It's terr-r-rible! Who are they?" "Oh, Percy Tanges and young Garvie, and the two Studleys who grin like apes. I am sure that Mr. Flemming is very fortunate. Mother was saying only yesterday that Dr. Threadgold might envy him." Jess looked up alertly. "Dr. Threadgold, dear old balm?"

"Yes, with that gawk of an assistant." "He is rather tall, isn't he?" "Have you seen him?" "He has been to see Mother." "Good gracious, Jessica, we could not have him in our house." Jess had a shrewd knowledge of girls, and divided them into two groups of "sporters" and "cats." Miss Wilks belonged to the latter class. She had always been ready to cheer a friend's frock. "We think Mr. Wolfe very clever." "Clever! You should hear what Miss Perment says."

"Another of them!" "Another of what, Jess?" "Oh, nothing." Edith Wilks became the woman of the world.

"Everybody thinks Mr. Wolfe a conceited young man. Father says that he won't stay long in Navestock. He is so rude and meddlesome, a regular jackanapes." Jess's face was very attentive and very quiet. "Oh!" "You see, people who have lived in Navestock all their lives do not tolerate an upstart, underbred young man like that. We wonder Dr. Threadgold has not got rid of him before this. Father said that he will have to give Dr. Threadgold a hint."

"What has Mr. Wolfe done to offend your father?" "I don't know; I don't bother about such a man. I believe he said something very rude to Father about his cottages down by the mill. As if it was any business of his! Good gracious! I'd put him in his place."

Jess's eyes began to glitter. "I know. Those terrible old cottages that look as though they were going to fall into the river." "My dear!" "Why, one could push them over by leaning against them. And the smells!"

Miss Wilks became haughty. "Jess, how can you be so vulgar?"

"Well, it is true isn't it? Why should people always be so shocked by the truth?" "How absurd you are!" "Mr. Wolfe speaks the truth, I suppose." "He is a young man with no manners." Jess lay back and stared at the sky. "Mr. Chipperton would never tell any nasty truths, would he? Have you noticed how his knees bend?"

am always afraid they will burst through his trousers." (To Be Continued)

On the Job every minute

they've just got to be right

Each and every Chesterfield!

Each tray of CHESTERFIELDS from the cigarette-making machines passes under the watchful eyes of inspectors, trained by long practice to see flaws such as an end of torn paper, or a poorly filled cigarette.

And there's still another safeguard ... two "electric detectives" on each packaging machine. Electric fingers "feel" each end of every cigarette, and throw out every imperfect package.

Open your pack of Chesterfields, and look at them. It's no accident that every cigarette is round, firm and full. Somebody's been on the job every minute to give you what you want ... a cigarette that's made right in every way and that's milder and tastes better.

they Satisfy

End-on, this tray-full of fresh-made Chesterfields looks like a huge honeycomb. Inspectors, expert from long practice, remove with tweezers each torn or imperfect cigarette.
